

The White Mercedes

Paying attention to Law of Attraction cues

By Kevin Young, BSET

One of my passions in life is writing. Although I do plenty of it during my day, I've never been formally published so it's been a long-standing dream. That may be about to change thanks to the Law of Attraction ...

We attended a conference last weekend in another city about an hour away. At the conference were a number of vendors selling associated products, one of which was an industry magazine. I took a brief look but decided not to subscribe, yet something about the magazine kept sticking in my head.

On the second day, as we were driving to the conference, we came up behind a white Mercedes that was going about the same speed as us. We eventually passed it but during the hour-long ride it was always within sight.

Imagine my surprise when, as we pulled into the hotel where the conference was being held, the white Mercedes pulled in right behind us. As the driver got out, I recognized him as the publisher of the magazine I was interested in. During a break, I went to his table, chatted a bit about the magazine and decided to sign up.

“Imagine my surprise when, as we pulled into the hotel where the conference was being held, the white Mercedes pulled in right behind us.”

“Once again, The Universe had lined up all the necessary steps for me to achieve one of my dreams.”

When lunch arrived, I got to the buffet ahead of my wife due to a delayed workshop, filled my plate and returned to our lunch table. When my wife arrived at the table 15 minutes later, she had the magazine publisher in tow! They had stood next to each other in the lunch line, started talking and discovered that he was also a big follower of Law of Attraction. This certainly explained the white Mercedes!

We had a great conversation over lunch, talking about LoA and our industry. As a passing comment he happened to mention that he was looking for articles for his magazine, and asked if we might have an interest in writing for it. Of course I said yes! I then recalled that he was the one in the white Mercedes and shared that story with him. As a follower of LoA, he totally got the connection that brought us together and we all shared a good laugh over it.

So, once again, The Universe had lined up all the necessary steps for me to achieve one of my dreams – to become a published writer – and it did so effortlessly. All I had to do was act on the various impulses I received along the way. Now I need another dream! I think instead of white, I'll make mine black ... ●